

Elucidation Financial Statement 2017

Revenues

Over the financial year 2017, a budget was defined to remain within the constraint of the Foundation's bank balance on 1/1/2017 of € 27,368.76. To date fundraising remains the critical issue determining the rate of progress of the Zero Project.

A major part of the 2017 Budget was sanctioned by the Board of Trustees to cover the expenses of Camp Zero-2, the follow-up to Camp Zero-1, the starting point from which the further research scope would be defined.

The twin track of compiling a Monograph on Zero book project and associated International Conference on Zero, in addition to Camp Zerp-2, requires no out of pocket expenses.

Camp Zero-2 was held at the India International Center, New Delhi, from April 4-6, 2017. The total expenses for the preparation and execution of Camp Zero-2, including travel and accommodation, were: €19,925.-; Miscellaneous: € 104.42
